DETROIT LIONS (1-1) VS. BALTIMORE RAVENS (2-0)

SATURDAY, AUG. 27, 2016 • 7 P.M. ET • M&T BANK STADIUM (71,008)

JUST THE FACTS

- This Saturday (Aug. 27), the Baltimore Ravens welcome the Detroit Lions to M&T Bank Stadium for the third week of preseason play. Kicking off at 7 p.m., the game marks the fourth all-time preseason contest between the two teams and the first since Baltimore hosted the Lions on 8/17/12 (27-12 Detroit win).
- For the second-straight game, the Ravens emerged victorious by beating the Indianapolis Colts, 19-18, at Lucas Oil Stadium on Saturday (Aug. 20). Baltimore won in an unusual and dramatic way when DB/LB Anthony Levine Sr. intercepted a 2-point conversion attempt with less than 4 minutes to go and returned it 95 yards, providing his team 2 points to regain the lead. On the Colts' final drive, P Pat McAfee's 62-yard, game-winning FG attempt fell short as the final seconds ticked away. QB Josh Johnson led Baltimore's offense by completing 11 of 16 passes for 72 yards and 1 TD, also rushing 5 times for 40 yards.
- The 2016 campaign marks head coach John Harbaugh's ninth season in Baltimore, with the Ravens producing an 87-56 overall record (77-51 regular season) under his guidance. Impressively, Baltimore's 87 total victories since Harbaugh's arrival rank as the NFL's fourth most, while the team has also posted the NFL's most playoff victories (10) during this notable span (2008-15).
- In 2015, the Ravens finished third in the AFC North after posting a 5-11 record (Cincinnati won the division, and Pittsburgh was a Wild Card playoff entrant). It marked just the second time the Ravens did not make the playoffs during Coach Harbaugh's eight seasons at the helm.
- Following Saturday's game, Baltimore hits the road for the preseason finale at New Orleans (Sept. 1). The Ravens open the regular season in Charm City when they host the Bills at M&T Bank Stadium (Sept. 11).

HARBS SAYS

JOHN HARBAUGH ON THE PRESEASON: "We're always looking to get better. We're looking to improve. We're looking to continue to make our way toward becoming the football team that we want to be – and we know we can be, which is a winning football team. What goes in to that? We'd have to sit here for probably an hour to go through all of the little details of what we're trying to accomplish, but it's all of those things rolled up into becoming a winning football team."

INJURY UPDATE

OLB Elvis Dumervil (lower leg) and WR Breshad Perriman (knee) were activated from Physically Unable to Perform (PUP) on Aug. 22, however, RB Lorenzo Taliaferro (foot) remains on the list. The following did not play Saturday at Indy: starters QB Joe Flacco, WR Steve Smith Sr. and OLB Terrell Suggs and CB Kyle Arrington (concussion), S Kendrick Lewis (undisclosed), WR Chris Matthews (undisclosed), TE Dennis Pitta (finger sprain), G John Urschel (contusion) and TE Maxx Williams (undisclosed). S Matt Elam will undergo knee surgery and miss at least the start of the regular season. Rookie third-rounder DE Bronson Kaufusi broke his ankle on Aug. 4 and is likely out for the season.

NOTE THE QUOTE

JOE FLACCO ON THE "O" IN A SECOND YEAR UNDER MARC TRESTMAN: "I think we are out there operating with a ton of command. We are playing fast. We all know what we are doing. I'm very sure about it. Our protections are doing a really good job. I'm able to go back out there, stand behind everybody, play really fast and know where I'm going with the ball. I think it allows you to make more plays on the run here and there when your first two guys aren't open. I just think that we are setting everything up to play fast and play consistently throughout the four quarters and throughout 16 games."

College: North Texas Hometown: DeSoto, TX

As a 2014 rookie free agent, why did you decide to pick the Ravens? "Growing up, my favorite players were Ray Lewis and Ed Reed. The Ravens were always a team I looked up to. I just liked their style of play. Whenever the Ravens were on TV, I knew it was going to be a smash-mouth, physical team that was going to hit you. As a defensive player, who wouldn't want to play for the Ravens? That is a dream come true."

Why do you embrace special teams so much? "As a rookie [in 2014], I just wanted to do anything to help the team win. The way I could get on the team was by playing special teams. The Ravens take pride in special teams, and it was easy to fall in line. I love football, and special teams is still running and hitting. That is what I love to do."

As an undrafted free agent, do you have a better perspective on why preseason games are so important? "I definitely understand why these games are so important. Preseason games are how I made it. As a rookie, the games were like a playoff game or a championship game for me. Even now, the preseason games are very important. Each and every play matters, and I'm always trying to get better."

What is it like to play for Ravens special teams coordinator/associate head coach Jerry Rosburg? "It is fun. He is a guy who is going to prepare you each week, and he lets us go out there and play with our hair on fire. That is what you want to do as a football player – you want to play fast and physical. That is what he allows us to do."

What is the most important thing you've learned from your best friend, Albert McClellan? "Always put good film out there. Whether it is practice, preseason or the regular season, show what you can do and give your best effort. When you step on the field, maximize the opportunity to show the organization and league your true talents."

"Welcome to the NFL" moment: "It was the third preseason game my rookie year vs. the Redskins. I was running down covering a kick. I saw a wedge, and it was my job to go split it. I thought I was going to blow it up, but I got blocked from the outside – I just got blasted. I heard the crowd going crazy. The next day in meetings, coach [Jerry] Rosburg told me, 'This is the NFL. Guys are coming from all directions, so keep your head on a swivel.' Ever since then, I've kept my head on a swivel."

QUOTE THE RAVENS

ESPN's Adam Schefter on the Ravens returning to form in 2016:

"Their track record has been that they're a good, solid, winning organization. I would think they come back [in 2016] and are the Ravens that everybody in Baltimore knows and loves."

OLB Terrell Suggs on if the Ravens have a collective chip on their shoulder after last year's struggles:

"Definitely. I think that was the purpose of this training camp. We have to beat that [bad feeling] of last year. We have to get rid of last year's team, last year's feel and everything that went terrible with last year and leave it back there. We have to be the Ravens that we know we are supposed to be, that we are accustomed to being and [know] that the standard was set here. That is definitely the No. 1 thing on our list as a chip, as a motivator."

WR Steve Smith Sr. on what went into his decision to come back after his Achilles injury:

"When I got hurt, I felt like I let those guys down in the locker room. For me to come back and play, it's to show that I am dependable and that they can depend on me, and to show [everyone] that at 37 years old, I can still play. I'm sick of y'all [saying], 'How can you depend on a 37-year-old to play this game after a ruptured Achilles?' We're going to see, because I have people that believe in me, and I have a team that trusts me. ... And I intend to lay everything out – not for myself, but for the people who believe in me and the people that invested in me 16 years ago [and] for the people that thought that I was only going to be here for a minute. This is just a chance for me to say 'thank you' to them by finishing what an organization allowed me to start. That's why."

S Lardarius Webb on learning from new Ravens S Eric Weddle:

"I'm learning so much from him. He's a great leader. He's our [quarterback] on the defense. He keeps everything going. He is an awesome guy – awesome locker room guy. He's great in meetings. I can't speak enough great things about the guy. I'm just happy to have him here to make us better. A lot of guys are feeding off of his energy. I'm bringing the same type of energy. I've been here, and the guys look up to me also. So to have both of us back on the back end is big for the defense – for the team."

Former Ravens OLB Jarret Johnson on playing with S Eric Weddle in San Diego and how he'll fit in with Baltimore:

"When I first got [to San Diego in 2012], it kind of shocked me how much he reminded me of Ed Reed. When I say that, I mean, his preparation for the game, the way he understood his opponent, how much he watches film and how he was willing to take risks, and even willing to sometimes break coverage in order to make a big play, which is what Ed Reed was notorious for. His work ethic is off the charts."

John Harbaugh on QB Joe Flacco's significance to the organization:

"To me, this is one of those things where your quarterback becomes, after a while, your partner. He becomes part of the organization, part of us, part of who we are, coaching staff-wise. It's a really unique relationship in sports. To me, that's who Joe is for us."

Defensive line coach Joe Cullen on DTs Brandon Williams and Timmy Jernigan carrying the Ravens' defensive line tradition:

"In the history of the Baltimore Ravens, they've had a dominant defensive line. Some of those pieces are gone, but now it's the younger guys like Brandon [Williams] and Timmy [Jernigan] being able to carry the torch of those guys. And I take great pride in that, making sure that we're going to outwork everybody."

DT Timmy Jernigan on having OLB Terrell Suggs back practicing:

"He brings a special type of energy with him. He is definitely one of those guys that is almost like having a coach with you. When we are out there together, and he sees something ... Sometimes he is telling me, 'The play is coming to you.' Off of that, before the ball snaps, it is easy to make pre-snap reads and things like that, especially with a guy like Suggs beside you. He hasn't told me anything wrong in three years. Every time he has been beside me and said, 'This is what is about to happen,' it has happened."

TE Benjamin Watson on joining the Ravens:

"I was excited, because this is an organization I think very highly of. To come to an organization like this – one that is predicated upon winning and one that is healthy as an organization, giving us a chance to be successful – it is an honor for me to be here."

John Harbaugh on LB Albert McClellan's versatility at linebacker and as a special teams ace:

"He's a versatile player, so he can play all three spots. He knows what to do. He's a good football player. He takes on blocks. He sheds blocks. He runs to the ball. He knows where to be in coverage, [which is] so important for linebackers, especially. There's a lot going on in front of him and behind him. He understands. He's almost perfect with that stuff on a regular basis. He's just a good football player, and he plays really well when he's out there."

RB Justin Forsett on proving himself every season:

"I'm a 5-8, 190-pound running back, so I always have to prove myself. It's no different [in 2016]. Each year, nothing is promised, so I just have to go out and work and show what I've been doing over the last eight or nine years."

SUPER BOWL TITLES

Super Bowl XXXV MVP

In a magnificent effort showcasing thrilling performances by their defense, offense and special teams units, the Baltimore Ravens won Super Bowl XXXV with a 34-7 victory over the New York Giants. Allowing the Giants a meager 152 total net yards, New York's attack crossed midfield just twice, while Baltimore's "D" posted 4 INTs. LB Ray Lewis was named the game's MVP, capping an accolade-filled season in which he was also tabbed the NFL's Defensive Player of the Year.

QB Joe Flacco - 2012
Super Bowl XLVII MVP

Baltimore defeated San Francisco, 34-31, in Super Bowl XLVII, capturing the franchise's second World Championship. After an amazing first-half performance, the Ravens took a commanding 28-6 lead. But following a bizarre, 34-minute power outage that halted play, the 49ers stormed back into contention. Clinging to a 34-29 edge late in the game, the Ravens stood firm on a pivotal goal-line stand, jamming SF on four-straight plays inside the 7-yard line. QB Joe Flacco was named the game's MVP.

Harbaugh is the only head coach in NFL history to win a playoff game in six of the first seven seasons of a coaching career.

In 2012, John Harbaugh became the third coach (with Bill Cowher & Chuck Knox) since the 1970 merger to guide his team to the playoffs in each of his first five seasons.

Harbaugh, Tom Landry (Dallas) and Tom Coughlin (Jaguars/Giants) own the most road playoff wins (7) by a HC in NFL history.

The Ravens' special teams unit has been a strength of the club ever since the arrival of head coach John Harbaugh and ST coordinator/associate head coach Jerry Rosburg in 2008. In 2015, Baltimore's specialists continued to excel. Here were several rankings for the unit:

FOUR-STRAIGHT TOP 5s

In 2015, senior NFL writer Rick Gosselin of The Dallas Morning News ranked the Ravens' special teams unit No. 1 in the NFL in his annual comprehensive ratings system based on 22 categories, assigning points according to each standing — 1 for best, 32 for worst. 2015 marked the fourth-straight year in Gosselin's Top 5, as Baltimore was No. 5 in 2014, No. 5 in 2013, and in 2012, earned the No. 2 spot.

RAVENS THRIVE UNDER ROSBURG

Special teams coordinator/associate head coach Jerry Rosburg, a 38-year coaching veteran, has guided a strong special teams group since arriving in Baltimore in 2008. Here are several standout notes:

PRIME PUNTER & KICKER

- Earning his first Pro Bowl nod in 2015, P Sam Koch's 46.7 gross average ranked No. 9 in the NFL, while his 42.9 net average was No. 2. In 2014, Koch posted the NFL's No. 3 gross (47.4) and No. 1 net (43.3) averages. Both marks are career highs and Ravens records.
- Pro Bowl K Justin Tucker, who Rosburg scouted and helped sign as a rookie free agent, owns the NFL's second-most FGs (130) since entering the NFL in 2012. "Tuck" has hit on 130 of 148 FGAs to post an 87.8 success rate, the second-best mark in league history. In his 60th game on Dec. 6, 2015, Tucker became the fastest kicker in NFL history to reach 500 points, surpassing HOFer Jan Stenerud (61 games).

RAVENS BIG RETURNS

- Led by Pro Bowl RS Jacoby Jones in the 2012 Super Bowl season, Baltimore ranked first in the NFL in kickoff return average (27.3), also setting a then-team record. Jones, who became the first player ever to record dual KORs of at least 105 yards in a career, tied for a league-leading 3 kick return TDs (2 KORs & 1 PR) and averaged an NFL-best 30.7 yards per KOR. Jones also tied an NFL record for longest KOR in Super Bowl history with his 108-yard KOR-TD. (In 2014's Week 9 game at Pittsburgh, Jones added another 108-yard KOR-TD to his stellar resume, marking 4 total KOR-TDs over 100 yards during his career.)

ROSBURG'S PAST

- Prior to Baltimore, Rosburg built a successful NFL special teams resume with the Browns (2001-06) and Falcons (2007). Over a five-year span (2002-06), Cleveland's special teams were ranked as the top NFL unit in The Dallas Morning News' annual comprehensive report.

JERRY'S SIX PRO BOWLERS

- Six Ravens have earned Pro Bowl honors while playing for Rosburg: ST Brendon Ayanbadejo (2008), K Billy Cundiff (2010), RS Jacoby Jones (2012), K Justin Tucker (2013), LS Morgan Cox & P Sam Koch (2015).

RAVENS BLOCK PARTY

- In Games 7 through 11 during the 2015 season, the Ravens blocked a kick (2 PATs, 2 FGs and 1 punt) in five-straight contests, a feat that had not been accomplished since 1983 (Atlanta Falcons).
- Impressively, Baltimore's 5 blocked kicks in 2015 tied (Oakland) for the NFL's most. Dating back to 2014, the Ravens have produced 8 blocked kicks, ranking as the NFL's No. 1 figure.

A STRONG RETURN

Since 2008, when Jerry Rosburg became the Ravens' ST coordinator, Baltimore owns the NFL's No. 1 KOR average (25.4).

NOTE THE QUOTE

CBS Sports' Pete Prisco on ranking DT Brandon Williams the most underrated player in the NFL: "A year ago, I picked him as his team's most underrated player. But after an impressive 16 games in 2015, where he played as well as any nose [tackle] in the league, Williams shoots to the top overall honor. ... How he missed out on a Pro Bowl in 2015 is mystifying. It's tough for centers to move him in one-on-one situations, and he helps free up the linebackers to run to the football."

ROOKIE BUCKED UP IN '15

RB Javorius "Buck" Allen produced 170 yards from scrimmage in 2015's Week 13 game at Miami, securing 12 catches for 107 yards and rushing 17 times for 63 yards. With his Miami output, Allen produced the 25th game in Ravens history of a player gaining at least 170 yards from scrimmage.

- Since 2011, only six players have posted at least 60 rushing yards and 100 receiving yards in a game: Allen, Le'Veon Bell (2014), Reggie Bush (2013), Matt Forte (2014), Arian Foster (three times in 2011) and Jeremy Langford (2015).
- Only 14 times over the past 10 seasons has a player posted at least 60 rushing yards, 100 receiving yards and 1 receiving TD in a game.
- Allen is just the second player in Ravens history to have 60 rushing yards and 100 receiving yards in a game, joining Ray Rice (77 and 117 on 10/18/09 at Min.).
- His 12 catches are the third most in Ravens single-game history. Priest Holmes (10/11/98) & Steve Smith Sr. (9/27/15) each had 13.
- Allen's 107 receiving yards are the third most by a RB in Ravens single-game history (Ray Rice had 117 on 10/18/09 at Min. and Jamal Lewis had 108 vs. NO on 12/8/02).
- Allen's 12 catches were the most by an NFL RB in 2015 (Danny Woodhead was next with 11), while Allen's 107 receiving yards ranked fifth.

NOTE THE KOCH QUOTES

Ravens special teams coordinator/associate head coach Jerry Rosburg on P Sam Koch's innovative punting methods:

"He's a unique punter. He's changing the way the game is going to be played. It's remarkable to me that more have not necessarily followed the lead. Perhaps that's an indication of how difficult it is to do what he's doing, because you don't see much of it – even from the highly-skilled professionals that we see on a weekly basis."

ESPN.com's Kevin Seifert on Koch's arsenal of punts:

"Some are designed to hook toward the sideline with maximum hang time. Others use an intentionally low trajectory to aid coverage teams. He has a knuckler and one kick that drops, from the returner's perspective, roughly in the shape of the letter 'S.' He's debuted a "boomerang" punt that does just what you would imagine it might. Most, but not all, of these punts are intended to discourage a clean catch and minimize the return.

"It's not unusual for NFL punters to develop a "changeup" of sorts, but no one has ever had multiple options at the ready. ... The NFL changes every day, but there are only a few moments in each generation when it transforms. This is one of them. In plain sight, Sam Koch and the Ravens have introduced a new way to punt."

INSIDE THE 20 SUCCESS

P Sam Koch is the Ravens' all-time leader in punts inside the 20 (currently has 280 during his career). In 2010, he posted a career-high 39 boots inside the 20, which were the NFL's second most and tied for eighth best all time in league history.

RAVENS IN OUR COMMUNITY

TRAINING CAMP 2016

WR Steve Smith Sr.

The Ravens welcomed approximately 1,000 fans to the Under Armour Performance Center each day for training camp practices. Additionally, more than 20 non-profits from the Baltimore-area had the chance to see the players in action. Organizations that attended included: Athletes Serving Athletes (ASA), providing a mainstream race experience for disabled athletes, Boys and Girls Clubs, Casey Cares Foundation, providing programs for critically ill children and their families, Ronald McDonald House, Special Olympics Maryland, Police Athletic League and various summer camps from around Baltimore. The Ravens hosted active service members from the U.S. Army, U.S. Air Force, Maryland National Guard and Gold Star Mothers, mothers of soldiers who lost their lives while serving. The Tragedy Assistance Program for Survivors (TAPS), an organization that supports families of fallen service members, as well as veterans from the Wounded Warrior Project were also in attendance. Each community group had the opportunity to meet and greet players and coaches, who signed autographs and took pictures with the guests after practice. This gave the Ravens a chance to show appreciation toward the numerous fans who support them.

ELLICOTT CITY RELIEF

In late July, Howard County, Md., experienced an unprecedented amount of rainfall and flooding. The severe weather destroyed homes, vehicles and infrastructure in Ellicott City. In response to the tragedy, the Ravens teamed up with WIYY 98 Rock radio station to raise funds and awareness for the individuals, families and businesses affected by the flooding. Ravens players, coaches and staff supported efforts by wearing "I heart EC" shirts. Additionally, Howard County native WR Michael Campanaro (pictured right) announced the Ravens $10,000 donation to the United Way of Maryland's ECStrong Fund.
